EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

New York--Southern Persons on the New York Press--Cosmopolitical Party--Stewart's Retail House--The Appletons--Anthony's Chrome House.

WEST NOTLSTON, MASS., July 17, 1871.

In my last, I gave you one of the incidents of my trip, and an account of some interesting matters in New York. It is a delightful jaunt just at this time from Atlanta North over the East Tennessee and Virginia route. The journey is made in two days and a little over—less than fifty hours. Close connections are made at every point. The schedule is so arranged as to carry one through the picturesque scenery of Virginia and the Middle States in the day time. Leaving Atlanta in the afternoon on the State Road, the night is passed in traversing the East Tennessee and Georgia Road in a comfortable sleeping car. From Bristol to Lynchburg, the Tennessee and Virginia Road affords the traveler a ride of surprising interest. Hills and mountains, clear streams and lovely vallies, beautiful forests and smiling farms, greet the vision in delightful mingle ment and refreshing alternation. The harvests of golden grain dotted the fields in shining pyramids. The cool breezes stole through the cars laden with the odors of the valleys, and fresh from the green fields and the hills. A more pleasant, charming jaunt I never experienced. A fine sleep from Lynchburg to Washington, over the Orange, Manassas and Alexandria Road, puts one in an appreciative condition for the swift run from Washington to New York, through a country populous, cultivated and ornate. It is one continuous succession of beautiful towns and fine farms. A better schedule for seeing the beauties of this short beautiful route North, could not be arranged. At half after four the traveler reaches New York, and has ample time to get fixed comfortably before night.

NEW YORK.

The city is rather dull at this season. So the comfort hunter and pleasure seeker hies himself to the country. The fashionables are off at the various watering places. The weather is hot, but still there is ample amusement to be found. New York is nearly, if not quite as gay as—Atlanta.

SOUTHERN PERSONS ON THE NEW YORK PRESS.

The South has made quite a contribution to the working material of New York journalism. Our Southern countrymen and countrywomen are among its most efficient, capable and prized workers. Among some of them who have won reputation and are making money, I may mention the following: Miss Sallie Brock, of Virginia, is connected with Appleton's Journal; Mrs. Mary E. Tucker has served and is serving on the corps of Brick Pomeroy's editorial staff; Colonel D. G. Reed, a grandson of Gen. Duff Green, of Dalton, is the managing editor of Pomeroy's Weekly Democrat; Colonel Prentice Ingraham, of Mississippi, son of the author of the Prince of the House of David, is editor of "Our Society;" a Mr. Joseph, of South Carolina, is connected with the New York Sun; Mrs. Laura Holloway, of North Carolina, Miss Minnie, of West Virginia, and Mrs. Juliet Burton, of Virginia, are associated with other journals. I must not omit to mention Mrs. George Bretty, of Georgia, as one of the most industrious and successful. She made her reputation as a journalist as reporter for the New York Sun. She is an indefatigable, sprightly writer. She works for various journals, among them Woodhull and Claflin's Weekly, which is spreading into a very large circulation. This journal is a pecuniary success, and navigates the of which Mrs. Woodhull is the author, leader and grand manager. She claims to have made immense headway. Many big boys hob-nob at her political headquarters. She has raised the woman-suffrage standard to the breeze, and thousands of heroic petticoats are flocking to her leadership. She seems to look with contempt on both parties, and upon the ruins of the two proposes to build a third party under the inspiring oriflame of female breeches. Miss Claflin is a candidate for Congress in the 8th New York District.

STEWART'S RETAIL HOUSE.

Among the practical curiosities of this big place, one of the biggest is the big retail dry goods house of A. T. Stewart. It is well worth a visit. Mr. Crittenden, of the Kimball House in your city, had told me I must not fail to visit it, and referred me to Mr. Jennings, the superintendent of the mammoth establishment. The potency of Mr. Crittenden's name was shown in the prompt kindness of Mr. Jennings' attentions. He is a young man, of very pleasant address, as well as great administrative ability. He has held the position for over two years. He controls the large concern with signal ability. So large an affair requires about the same amount of tact and genius that are needed for the command of our army, or the administration of a State. This building has 2,500 employes in it. Think of that. An army itself! Of this, 600 are salesmen and 200 are cash boys. The structure is noble and covers a block. Each story consists of one room. The windows are as thick as they can be placed and extend from floor to ceiling. In the centre of the building a broad arcade runs to the roof, where a flood of light and air pours through the glass. The ventilation and light are magnificent. A half a dozen elevators keep the various floors in communication. Every article of trade has a seperate department with its clerks and superintendent. The method and system of the establishment are marvellous. One entire floor is devoted to carpets. One floor is used for ready-made dresses, of which you can buy one costing anywhere from a thousand dollar silk to a five dollar linen. This branch of business has enormously increased. Every kind of goods are made into clothing, from the most expensive to the most common, and sell readily. Costly silks sell as well ready-made as cheaper dresses. But I cannot begin to give you an idea of this gigantic establishment and its wonders. Seen in the middle of the day with its interminable floors thronged with a swarming mass of customers and clerks, handling the endless variety of goods, the scene is a striking one.

APPLETONS.

Another interesting place to visit is Appletons' Publishing House. Over five hundred employees work in this establishment. Mr. George Appleton, whom I met, is an elegant looking gentleman, of middle age, and quiet, rare, good manners, appearing to be a person of culture. This house is very careful in its publication of works. The Appletons won't publish any but works of merit. No amount will induce them to give the prestige of their name to any inferior book. They employ a reader at a large price, a gentleman of high critical qualifications, to peruse all manuscript and decide whether they come up to the necessary standard of excellence.

ANTHONY'S CHROMO HOUSE.

One of the most attractive places I visited was Anthony's Chromo House, where one is lost in a wilderness of pictures. Everything in the picture line can be found here. This house does a large Southern business. A.

The Educational Convention at Montgomery a Success--The People not Altogether Taking the Necessary Interest--Colonel Sanford--General Gordon--Dr. Stout--Mr. Slaymaker--Montgomery Hacks, etc., etc.

MONTGOMERY, ALA., July 21, 1871.

Editor Constitution: The great press of business in the midst of which I attempted to indite my letter of the 20th inst., prevented an examination of it, hence errors, which will readily be corrected by your intelligent readers, doubtless crept into it. One would have more sympathy for a correspondent could one have any conception of the difficulties under which newspaper letters are composed. Let your readers imagine themselves in the midst of a convention whose proceedings they are endeavoring to report; let them suppose that they are just in the act or penning what appears to be a terse sentence, when a couple or more delegates beg to interrupt them just a moment to ask what it was the last speaker said; let them be admonished that, in order to be in time for the mail, the letter must be finished in time without the chance of even glancing at the pretty paragraphs, and they will appreciate what it is to enjoy the fame and honors of a correspondent.

The truth is, we need a phonetic system, practically applied, so that we may write as fast as we think.

The work of the Convention is complete, so far as this session is concerned. The members have been attentive to their duties. Much good has been accomplished for the cause of popular education. Teachers and superintendents go to their homes greatly encouraged and strengthened in the faith. I venture that they have a higher and more unselfish appreciation of the noble work in which they are engaged, than ever before. The old men have renewed their strength, and the young men have added to their knowledge.

These annual convocations of teachers do much toward augmenting the interest which should be felt in education. The papers which are read, and the discussions participated in by old and young teachers, tend to the correction of errors, and the greater efficiency of the profession as a whole. New ideas are made to take the place of old ones not suited to these active times.

I have one remark to make touching the part taken in these meetings by the populace. It is this: The people fail to manifest that interest in the cause of education which we have reason to know they feel. By attending and countenancing these assemblages, the people would do much to encourage teachers and inaugurate in our school system those reforms which are so very desirable. Let us have stronger popular demonstration in this direction. Education—free, public education—is a great public interest; an interest which should be most religiously nurtured and matured. The sooner we realize this fact the better for our country and our industries.

It has been my privilege to greet many distinguished gentlemen in attendance upon the Convention. Among the handsomest and most highly cultivated, was Col. Jno. W. A. Sanford, the able State Attorney General. I shall never forget his beautiful lecture on the "Influence of Literary Studies upon the Character of a People." Mr. Mallon, the matchless Secretary of the Georgia Teachers' Association, ought, by all means, have Col. Sanford address the Association at its May meeting in Augusta.

There were present old men eloquent and young men eloquent. Of the latter, I could mention a number, but am afraid to trust myself as to names. Let it suffice for me to say that the absence of an arm or a leg lost in the great struggle which we made for constitutional liberty, invests these heroes with a new interest, and commends them to the hearts of the people, for whose greatest consideration they are laboring. Having illustrated their devotion to their State and section on the bloody field of battle, they come now, unconquerable spirits that they are, to illustrate their State and section on the field of letters, less dangerous but not less important.

General Gordon, (our future Governor) is quite at home, here and there, yes everywhere, he meets members of his old brigade and corps. No one, however casual an observer, can fail to detect at once the affection mutually entertained for each other by the General and his late soldiers.

Atlanta is well represented by the General, Dr. R. H. Stout and Mr. Slaymaker. The Doctor is as genial as ever and Mr. Slaymaker as full of fun. The latter has been playing young man to a considerable extent. Hasn't he pretty straight, however, and that he returns to Atlanta in the happiest mood.

On one occasion Mr. S., was introduced to a party of ladies as Colonel. The conversation progressed with increasing interest for sometime—one of the ladies constantly prefacing her remarks with "Colonel." Our friend interrupted the fair one by saying:

"Madame, excuse me; you mistake my title."

"Ah!" exclaimed the lady, "why, you were introduced to me as a Colonel."

"It was error, madam. My title is General—General Agent!"

Whereat the company laughed heartily and Lookout was called for.

Montgomery has hacks without number. She has broad streets, too, but is in woful need of a street railroad and a good system of water works. MIDNIGHT.

Georgia Western Railroad.

DOUGLASVILLE, GA., July 15, 1871.

Editor Constitution: Agreeably to a previous call, a large number of the citizens of Douglass county assembled at this place today. On motion, W. P. Strickland was called to the Chair, and A. S. Gorman requested to act as Secretary. The Chairman then explained the object of the meeting, which was to consider the prospect of the Georgia Western Railroad passing through this county, giving aid to the same by granting the right of way, taking stock, etc. On motion, the following named gentlemen were appointed as a committee to draft resolutions for the consideration of the meeting, John F. Glover, Dr. Poole, Capt. Whitley, G. W. McLaity and E. Polk.

While the committee was absent, Col. John M. Edge, in response to general call, addressed the meeting in his usual finent and impressive style upon the benefits to be derived upon the building of said road to the people of Douglass county.

The committee having returned, the following resolutions were read and unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That the people of Douglass county want the Georgia Western Road; that the right of way be given through the county; the road to be the same width as allowed to other roads in this State.

Resolved, That we recommend the company to cross the Chattahoochee river below the mouth of Sweet Water creek, thence coming out by the great water power known as the old Sweet Water Factory site and the Merchant Mills on that stream.

Resolved, That we are willing to subscribe stock under the form adopted at the railroad meeting held at Chapel Hill on the 12th inst.

On motion, it was resolved that the proceedings of this meeting be published in THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION and other papers friendly to this enterprise. The meeting then adjourned.

W. P. STRICKLAND, Chairman.
A. S. GORMAN, Secretary.

Morning Edition.

ATLANTA:

TUESDAY, JULY 25, 1871.

☞ The indications are that insanity will be pleaded in defense of Mrs. Wharton, and with some prospect of success.

Our Fourth Page.

Several interesting articles will be found on the Fourth Page of to-day's issue. Among them, an account of the storm on Sunday, the telegraphic cotton statement, and also the decease of several honorable citizens.

Arrested.

Warren Carmer, a negro preacher of Goldsboro, North Carolina, has been arrested for an attempt at wholesale murder by poisoning wells in the vicinity. That makes good his claims for some high Federal office.

New York Riot.

Henry Ward Beecher comes to the rescue of the principles of law. The Orange procession, in his judgment, was not a question as to the battle of the Boyne, but the question of liberty in New York.

☞ The New Monthly Magazine, edited by the Rev. W. P. Harrison, for August is at hand; it is illustrated and full of good and interesting reading. We would recommend this magazine as full of interest. It deserves a hearty support.

The Battle-Field.

John Quincy Adams, of Massachusetts, thinks that the battle-field in the Presidential canvass of 1872, will be in Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia, and declares that the Democratic candidate ought to be taken from one of these States.

Freedom.

At one of the Radical meetings recently held in North Carolina, a banner was suspended above the stage with a painting on it of the Goddess of Liberty.

"O! Liberty! what injuries have been perpetrated under thy name."

The Best Government.

One of the Radical speakers in Kentucky, a few days since, very often referred to "the best Government on earth." Yet the Radical party instead of loving it, and doing all they can in their power for its promotion, rob their own mother, and are reveling on her heart's blood. Ah! how she is abused, and by her own children.

North Carolina.

Akerman has left North Carolina. In all of his speeches in that State he stood by and endorsed the despotic acts and vile corruptions of the government. He makes but one point, and argues but one thing, and that is, that Southern people are free so long as they are controlled by his party, and he makes use of intimidation and threats to keep them in the party.

Governor Bullock.

The papers inform us that General Grant has visited Staatsburg, New York, and has returned to Long Branch, accompanied by Col. Forney and Gov. Bullock, of Georgia. What a trio to assist in directing and managing the party. The people, however, can be satisfied and patient, for Radicalism, that huge humbug and monstrous deception, soon consigned to everlasting fires will be

"A thing
O'er which the raven flaps his funeral wing."

☞ The New York Evening Post (Republican) denounces the San Domingo job, advocates revenue reform, integrity in the public service, and adherence to the principles of the Constitution. Grant will soon silence the Post for "disloyalty." This paper has also spoken of Butler's qualifications for the Governorship of Massachusetts, and says "General Butler is a politician without policy, a statesman without principles, and a partisan without moderation." It might have added, and a thief without conscience.

Majorities.

One of our Radical exchanges says: "The long, short, wide, and all in all of our government is that the majority must rule." Does that always hold good if law and the Constitution controls? Submission to the will of the majority is not a principle of our Federal Government. Submission is to the Constitution and the laws made in conformity with it. One State has the right to govern all if the Constitution is on its side. At least that was formerly the principle of our government.

North Carolina.

From our exchanges, we learn that in some sections of the above State, bands of outlaw negroes are murdering, robbing, and openly defying all the authorities. Why does Gen. Grant permit this? 'Tis true that one of the leaders of these negroes is one Lowry, a well known radical politician; but does our President make the government a political machine. Does he enforce the Ku-Klux bill on some white man who does not worship at his temple, when he gets on track of him, and yet will not interfere with hordes of armed negroes opposing the laws who are his allies?

Vicious Results.

Vicious results always follow vicious principles. If murder is taught, murder will follow. Zeno taught the virtue of suicide, and took himself off by suicidal hands. The Epicureans taught a sensual philosophy, and their disciples disgraced their age by their sensualism. The Jacobin clubs of Paris taught deadly hate toward the nobility, and they massacred them as a necessary consequence. The principles and teachings of Radicalism are vicious, and vicious results have followed. All over the country where Radicalism prevails, and its bad teachings are heard, we read of murders, poisonings, seductions, rapes and every other species of crime.

General Gordon's Card.

In another column of this morning's CONSTITUTION will be found the above interesting card. The character and reputation of the gentlemen who compose the company alluded to, as well as the high standing of those who have favored its objects are too well and favorably known to require any endorsement from us.

We are pleased and gratified to state that the efforts of the company are being highly appreciated by the public.

The article which General Gordon referred to did not appear as an editorial in THE CONSTITUTION, nor was it endorsed by it, but was simply re-copied from the Sun.

Ku-Klux Investigating Committee.

This committee seems to be growing into an "elephant" in the hands of the Radical party. It was undertaken to fan up bad feeling between the people of both sections of the country, and to aid in building up Radicalism. In these objects it has proven a miserable failure. It has been expensive, still we can put up with it on account of several developments made. It has abundantly confirmed the profligacy of the carpet-bag dynasties of the South; and every day it brings to light a statement of Radical corruption and misrule that will very considerably damage the party it was expected to benefit.

We advise the management to stick to Chap. Norris, and men of that party, and do not call for the testimony of Hon. Tom Hardaman and Gen. Gordon. The best thing, however, that could be done, would be to postpone indefinitely any further investigation.

C. C. Bowen.

The above polygamist pardoned by President Grant, has been recommended to emigrate with his numerous wives to Utah, where he can lawfully play husband to them all. The Salt Lake Herald indignantly expresses the hope that he will stay away. It does not want any sneaking fellow like him round there, passing himself off as a single man on unsuspecting spinsters. The Mormon's, it says, make their matrimonial arrangements openly and above board, and if they are married already, say so to the new object of their affections.

Democratic Candidate for Governor, of Maryland.

William Pinkney Whyte, of the above State, has been nominated by his party for the office of Governor. He has long held a prominent position at the Baltimore Bar, and is much respected and esteemed as a gentleman of great ability, of statesmanlike views, and of irreproachable private character. A better selection could not have been made in the State.

Accident on the Atlantic and Gulf Railroad.

The eastern bound passenger train on the Atlantic and Gulf Railroad, due here at 6:25 A. M. yesterday, was thrown from the track when about four miles from the city. The train was somewhat ahead of time, and the engineer was running quite slowly. Some malicious, evil-minded person, who did not scruple to sacrifice the lives of innocent persons, either to gratify a spite or accomplish a personal object, had placed upon one of the rails a piece of singularly shaped iron called a "chair," used in coupling the rails. This the engineer and firemen did not discover until it was too late to prevent the accident.

The engine tender and four or five cars ran off, and were more or less injured. One stock car, loaded with cattle, was badly damaged. The engine and tender went down an embankment of some six or eight feet, turning completely upside down. The engine is slightly damaged. The engineer, J. J. Crowley, was somewhat bruised and slightly scalded.

Fireman Abram Williams, colored, was caught under the tender and had to be dug out. His left leg was badly crushed, and he was otherwise bruised. Upon arrival in the city, his leg was amputated above the knee, but the poor fellow died about 2 P. M.

No other person received any injury.—Savannah News.

Card from General Gordon.

Editor Constitution: I am told that during my absence, an article was transferred to your columns, reflecting upon me personally and upon the University Publishing Company, and paid for by a rival enterprise.

Of the allusions to myself I shall take no notice. I have something to say, however, of this company with which I am associated, and as you have, unintentionally, doubtless, done the long list of Southern gentlemen interested in this company the wrong of giving circulation to such an article, I trust you will perceive the justice of making equally public the statements I give below.

First—This movement has been indorsed by our people, from General Lee down, with a unanimity and an enthusiasm never before equaled probably, save by that created by the war. It would be strange if it were otherwise.

Second—The stockholders number at present, I believe, about 300. Of these all are representative men of the South, except thirteen; and among these thirteen are Cyrus H. McCormick, a Virginian, now of New York, who so liberally endowed Gen. Lee's college, and several others of Southern birth and education. Among the 300 Southern stockholders are Ex-President Davis, General Joseph E. Johnston, General Beauregard, General Ewell, General Hood, General Hays, General Buckner, General Taylor, General Lee, eldest son of R. E. Lee, General Lawton, General Gilmer, General Colquitt, General Wilcox, General Bate, General Manning, General Polk, General Sorrel, General Clanton, Mr. Sedden, late Secretary of War of the Confederate States, and many of the most prominent Ex-Governors and Governors of the South, Bishops, Railroad and Bank Presidents, clergy, teachers, leading planters, merchants, lawyers, physicians, &c., &c.

Third, The object of the organization is to rid the South of the school books, which are obnoxious to Southern sentiment and to cooperate with all effort in that direction, and to furnish, as it has succeeded in doing, books of the highest merit.

Fourth, The authors of the books, are Profs. John and Joseph LeConte, formerly of the Universities of Georgia and South Carolina; Colonel Richard Jonhson, one of Georgia's most distinguished teachers, now at the head of Penn Lucy Institute, near Baltimore; Colonel Charles Venable, Professor of Mathematics in the University of Virginia, and during the war, General Lee's staff officer; Prof. Gildersleive, Professor of Greek in the University of Virginia, and who, during the war was severely wounded while serving upon my staff; Dr. Holmes, of the University of Virginia, Professor of Literature and History; Prof. Sachtleben, of the University of South Carolina, and Commodore M. F. Maury, the greatest probably of living Geographers, and during the war of the Confederate Navy, and recently elected President of the University of Alabama.

So much for its status as a Southern Institution.

The company owns no publishing house, no presses or binding establishment. It prints and binds by contract, the work being done wherever it is done cheapest and best. As the lowest bids are made by New York, and as that city furnishes superior facilities to any other, the books are printed and bound there at present, as are nearly all our Southern books.

It is the purpose of the company eventually to build up its own publishing house in some Southern city, which is to be done as soon as practicable; but it would require to do this on a scale to meet the demand already created for these books, a vast amount of capital, endanger the success of the enterprise, and make the books higher priced. True political economy, as well as patriotism, demands that the books be published so as to make them cheapest for the thousands of Southern children who consume them. There are the many—the manufacturers are the few. The true interests, therefore, of the company, and of the country, so far as the country is interested in it, is to continue for the present the contract plan of publishing.

Mr. Lewis McLane, of Baltimore, well known to the country, is President of the company. Mr. C. B. Richardson, of New York, and myself are Vice Presidents. The authors had arranged with Mr. Richardson for the publication of their works, and from him and his associates the company purchased the rights, plates, stereotypes, etc., etc. The company needs and retains his practical skill in supervising the publication of these books.

These are the facts as to the company, its stockholders, its purposes, books, authors, mode of publication, etc., and these are made public only in answer to attacks made upon it. The company prefers to co-operate with all similar efforts, and if put in collision with such, it will be only in defense.

Its success is without a parallel in this country. The hearts of the people are in it, and public attention cannot be diverted from the patriotic purposes in view, by attacks upon individuals or the place of publishing. The books—their effect upon the minds and hearts and charcters of Southern children—this is the great question. The efforts to raise other issues are puerile, weak and frivolous. As well oppose upon similar grounds, the works of John C. Calhoun or the great history of Alexander H. Stephens.

Respectfully,

J. B. GORDON.

MARIETTA FEMALE COLLEGE.

Commencement Sermon Yesterday by Dr. A. A. Lipscomb—Subsequent Exercises—Rev. W. A. Rogers, President—Comfortable Quarters to be Found by Guests at the Kennesaw House.

MARIETTA, GA., July 24, 1871.

Editor Constitution: Yesterday Rev. Dr. A. A. Lipscomb, of the University of Georgia, delivered the commencement sermon at Marietta Female College, his discourse being founded on the following text: "And because I tell you the truth ye believe me not"—8th chapter St. John, 45th verse.

No child will ask you why it should speak the truth; in some respects truth is an instinct. The instincts of a young man at twenty are not his instincts at thirty. These instincts are amenable to the laws of culture; all agree to the infinite excellence of truth; the first requisite of high moral character is truth; there is nothing like manly truthfulness.

If you therefore desire to test the finer truthfulness, it is the feeling. Many men rather die than violate the truth, yet in their likes and dislikes, their romances, and other influences that are allowed to control, they pay no regard to truth of feeling. The great barrier in their way is not the want of evidence, because the light is so bright that they closed their eyes against it.

It is very desirable to ascertain what means the Savior adopted to unfold before the people the doctrine of his divine sonship. There never was a finer type as the Jew of the Savior's day—take some man among the Romans immediately anterior to christianity. I propose to discuss on the broadest grounds his exhibition of his Divine Sonship. The light in which you put a picture is quite as important as the picture itself. There is proof of his sonship in the personal intensity of his consciousness that he was the son of God and the energy and force with which he states this consciousness. That of all men that ever lived, he was the only one that ever undertook to establish his own consciousness as his own standard. Others look into your eyes to see if you gave evidence of approval of what they did or uttered—they paused to catch the echo of the world. Not so with the blessed Jesus, he looked on his own consciousness of the Godhead—it was not the product of experience, neither was it derived from his mother or his brothers, for they did not believe him, nor did his education give it to him. At twelve years of age, the eyes and ears and all the senses of children would be crowded with the impressions of surrounding objects, yet Jesus at that tender age had the consciousness that he was the son of the Father. Men would arrive at a conclusion to-day but to be reversed to-morrow; cherish a thought this morning but to be banished this evening; Jesus did not show this variableness. The final point is the acceptance of his own convictions of what he was himself. He detached himself from everything that might control him; he sternly refused all wordly entanglements, forsaking the pleasures of home and fireside. He either sternly rejected or silently put in abeyance all that tended to interfere with the purpose of his divine mission.

Dare I do without these? yet the Redeemer dispensed with them. If he was mere man, he had no right to crucify himself. Yet he did it—was the better for doing it—the nobler for it. He did it in the strength of his own consciousness of his Divine Sonship.

His constant effort was not to appeal to the imagination or senses. This would be in the way of the Jews, their senses would mislead them about him. The senses arrest all higher thought. Our dearest friends must lie down in the grave before we know how to value them. Jesus said that it is expedient for you that I go away. The foxes have holes and the birds of the air have nests, but the Son of Man hath not where to lay his head. He stripped himself of everything. The great aim of the Savior was to separate himself from the imagination, and if an humbler place than a manger could have been found, he would have been born there. He had no connection with metropolitan life and culture of Jerusalem—a man of sorrows and acquainted with grief. Do not present me the stately city with its summer pomp and summer foliage, but in winter time, so that I may get a bare bleak anatomy of it—so tear everything away from Christ and you have the pure grandeur of believing. Take everything from Washington, from Shakspear and others whose fame has filled the earth, and you reduce the mountain to the mole-hill.

Jesus laid off all these attractive circumstances, and raised the dead, and restored the deaf to hearing, and the blind to sight, and showed that he was the Christ. They desired to make him king, but he did not wish to be that sort of Christ—he wished to be the Christ of their faith and their hearts, and comes in the simple attitude of the Son of God, Christ to the heart, not to the senses and the imagination. I must see him through my heart. Human nature can be better seen through poverty than riches, riches cover it up. No cultivation will bring you to Christ, on the contrary it may prove a stumbling block.

Commercial civilization was the greatest enemy the gospel ever had—want of trust between man and man at the South was a barrier. The successful man of the world is made of the lower qualities of his intellect—take animal brain as the type to succeed—take the forethought of the ant and the bee, the constructive power of the beaver, take the crafty man, the man that manipulates—it is just the intellect that is fatal to religion.

Jesus is the Christ of sin, wretchedness and sorrow—he brought himself down to the single idea I am the Christ, but because I tell you the truth you will not believe.

As an illustration of the prominence that the Savior should occupy in the hearts of men, the eminent divine referred to his visit to that stupendous structure—St. Peter's of Rome. When he stood before it at a distance to receive a full impression of its solitary grandeur, its lofty pillars, crowned on either side with magnificent statues, he found that the great city had departed, whilst at his feet rolled the Tiber. The genius of Michael Angelo had determined that St. Peters should be seen and nothing else; everything should be cast out of sight; my work alone shall fix your gaze; I'll take your heart-strings and bind them here; you shall behold St. Peter's and nothing else. So with Jesus; he separated himself from his companionships and long admirers, and talked alone with individuals. The orator needs crowds to give him inspiration, but the single man of Samaria was just as good as a million to the Redeemer. Will I not, shall I not, believe in my Lord and my God?

Rev. W. A. Rogers is at the head of the Marietta Female College, which is a new institution, but which is now considered on a solid basis. The President has purchased a beautiful and eligible lot with a spacious two story structure, in which the exercises are at present conducted. It is designed to erect upon these premises at an early day, a college edifice. A charming lawn and a group of water oaks add attractions to the grounds.

Sophomore examintion to-day and prizes and exhibition to-night. To-morrow, junior examination and at night exhibition. On Wednesday, address by Rev. Arminius Wright, of Atlanta, and Annual Concert at night.

Maretta is a delightful summer resort, and all the appointments and appliances for comfort and pleasure may be found at the Kennesaw House, presided over by Messrs. Fletcher & Freyer, whose tables display all the luxuries and delicacies of the season, whilst faithful attendants, under the leadership of "Uncle Henry Peter," are prompt to serve. The bed chambers are well provided, the parlor presents an air of comfort which is enhanced by the presence of a piano, melodion and violin As Chancellor Lipscomb was on his return to Atlanta this morning from Marietta, an amusing incident, to which he was a party, occurred on the train. The Doctor was in earnest conversation with a party of friends in reference to the interests and prospects of the University, when an apparent octogenarian, who had been intensely interested—thrust his broad brim chapeau into the group of heads and exclaimed, and "you are the man (addressing Dr. L.) that has turned upon the country the men that have ruined it by advocating the doctrine of secession (naming several distinguished characters who had received their diplomas at the University.) The Doctor replied that he was no more responsible for their conduct after leaving the institution than the manufacturer of the engine by whose power he was drawn to Atlanta, was amenable for the act of the engineer for running the locomotive off the track, and thus greatly damaging the precious cargo abroad. The illustration was satisfactory, and had the effect to relieve the Doctor from the pressure of a crying enormity.

The Pranks of a Devil Fish.

One of those horrible looking creatures of the deep, better known as the devil fish, whose appearance in the waters of the coast are somewhat unfrequent, has been distinguishing himself lately by endeavoring to spirit away one of our old residents.

Day before yesterday Major Bonaud, who has many friends in this city, was fishing in Warsaw sound, near Cabbage island, his boat being anchored. By some means or other, a devil fish became entangled in the anchor rope and started off at a rapid rate of speed, towing the boat after him, with the occupants in no very pleasant frame of mind. The situation became so decidedly unpleasant, that it was thought best to cut the rope and let the fish go fancy free. This was accordingly done, much to the relief of the fishermen, and the creature took its way in peace. A circumstance something like this occurred in Charleston harbor not long since, the parties concerned being nearly capsized.—Savannah Advertiser.

Improvements in Chattanooga.

There are at present in the city erecting and undergoing completion six fine dwellings, at an average cost of $1,000, to $65,000; eighteen stores, all brick, three story, at an average cost of $5,000, $90,000; to new post-office building, $10,000; new Methodist church, $15,000. Union depot, $50,000; gas works, $70,000; opera house, $16,000; new hotel, $150,000; total, $600,000.—Daily Times.

IMPORTANT ARREST.—An arrest was made Saturday, in this city, which will in time expose various parties, who have been engaged in carrying on successfully a petty system of swindling by means of forged orders upon many of our merchants for goods. These orders have in every instance been presented by colored women, acting as active operators, under the direction of white operators yet unknown. The orders have always been written in a lady's hand, and characterized by that ease and fluency that would be expected under the circumstances.—Savannah Advertiser.

CHIGNONS ARE DOOMED!—At a certain fashionable wedding the other day, it was noticed that some of the belles came "in their own hair," done up in a braid behind the ears, or twined gracefully around the head. Good-bye, horrible old monstrosity! The chignon, like many good things, has been abused. It was an invention, originally, for those who had thin or no hair, and was a small make-believe braid. Then it grew with the imagination of shoppers, and became a bag of horse-hair, with a rivulet of human hair running over it.

☞ Wootten & Haight's Empire City Circus and Menagerie, exhibited in St. Johns, N. B., July 19th, 12th, 14th and 15th, and is billed, to perform in Shediac, 20th, and Halifax, N. S., one week, commencing July 31st. George Wambold, with a troupe of eight performing dogs, has recently joined this show. Business is reported very good, and we are informed that this circus will travel in the South, visiting all the principal cities, this fall and winter.

☞ In order to conform to the present fashion of diminutives, Minnie, Vinnie, Lottie, Mamie, Tommie, Charlie and Frankie are engaged in modernizing the altogether too severe scriptural names. They have modified Ruth to Ruthie, Rose to Roosie, Hagar to Haggie, Job to Jobbie, Mattie, Martie, Lukie and Johnnie. They intended to go through the whole Bible.

☞ The French are displaying enormous activity in the arms manufactories of Saint Etienne, Tulle and Chatellerault, and propose to turn out one thousand guns daily for several months to come. The whole number of armories in France can produce 500,000 rifles yearly. Two new camps for drill are also to be formed at Lyons, each to contain about 20,000 men constantly.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The President has pardoned Reddin and Brown, of Tennessee, convicted of illicit distilling.

Charles S. English has been appointed collector of the port at Georgetown; J. P. Starkweather collector of customs at St. Marks, Fla. Naval Paymaster Richard Washington, has been restored to duty.

Employees of the Alabama and Chattanooga Railroad having seized the road between York Station and Meridian, the mails go via Montgomery, Mobile and New Orleans to Jackson, Mississippi. The section in the hands of the rioters is only twenty-five miles long.

There is no delay of mails through Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and Alabama, as temporary contracts have been made for the service until January 1st, 1872, meanwhile new proposals will be invited for those States to fill the contracts which were defeated by straw bids, on some important river and stage lines.

J. H. Christy, of Athens, Ga., was examined to day by the Ku-Klux Committee. He testified in substance that he knew of no Ku-Klux organization in his district, or any part of the State. In answer to the question as to what facilities he had of knowing anything about it, he stated that he had been twice elected to Congress from that district, and usually attended the courts of the Western Circuit, as well as a portion of those of the Northern Circuit; and in response to a question, he said he believed that he was personally acquainted with the people generally. No more crime was committed now than before the war in his section of the State. He admitted there had been some violations of law by disguised parties for the purpose of punishing persons for living together in adultery, fornication, theft, etc., and stated that it was the general opinion in the community that the people took the law into their own hands, because so many criminals had been pardoned.

Another circumstance which gave rise to the many exaggerations in reference to the so-called Ku-Klux was the fact that mischievous young men, for purposes of amusement sometimes wrapped themselves in sheets and scared the superstitious negroes, some of whom affected to believe they were the ghosts of deceased Confederate soldiers. These negroes had disguised themselves and whipped a white man in Clarke county, and there had been but little said about it. Another party of disguised negroes had tried to murder a white man. Hancock had been convicted and sentenced, but subsequently pardoned by the Governor. The witness expressed the opinion that Alf. Richardson had not been attacked on political grounds, and that no negroes had been intimidated from voting the Republican ticket, but some had probably been prevented by threats from voting the Democratic ticket. The whole tenor of his testimony was to the effect that he believed there was no regular organization in Georgia for the purpose of violating the laws. The examination was long and tedious, but the above are the leading facts elicited.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 24.—At the riot inquest the Coroner addressed the jury, instructing them to inquire how, and in what manner, and when and where certain persons named to them came to their death, and also the circumstances attending such death, and said it was their duty to make a true inquisition according to the evidence offered. They must act on the evidence without excitement, passion or prejudice. The deputy coroner then read the names of the persons who met their death, and described the nature of each gunshot wound in each case. Two names were not known; the bodies not being identified. Several witnesses were then examined, all of whom testified that they saw no shots fired, but could not identify any one who fired.

J. Meany appeared as counsel for the relatives of some of the dead, but Coroner Young decided to conduct the inquest without the aid of counsel, and said he would do so in his own way.

Nearly all the witnesses testified that the shots were fired by the crowd before the military fired on the crowd.

Dr. C. V. Lordly testified that when the procession passed 34th street, he saw a woman waive a white handkerchief with an orange border, when a man walked up to her and shot her. Several other shots were fired, when the military fired into the crowd. One of the wounded had a pistol. Several of the wounded were taken to his store, three of whom died there. George McMarty saw one shot fired from the sidewalk; the procession halted and the police cleared the place in about five minutes afterwards.

Charles Smith, proprietor of a lager beer saloon, testified that all he saw was, when the procession was passing, a woman throw some garbage at the military; William Clark, a police officer, searched several of the mob that day and on the sidewalks, and took arms from them.

Oliver Tems, a police officer, heard a pistol discharged from the window of a house on the southeast corner of Twenty-fourth street, and in two or three seconds after he heard two or three shots fired from the houses, and saw missiles thrown; the military fired about two minutes after. He saw the crowd going up Eighth avenue at 11 o'clock, some of whom were armed.

Officer James McGraw heard one shot from one house on Twenty-fourth street, the military fired in about three minutes after. The police were dispersing the mob, which was retreating when the military fired. The police only used clubs. Saw no bricks or stones thrown when the military fired.

John H. Banner, a merchant, saw a man, dressed in a linen suit, fire a pistol into the air at the corner of Twenty-fourth street and run off; the military fired soon after. He was satisfied that was the only shot fired before the military fired.

The Coroner said he had tried to obtain all the evidence he could which would throw light on the subject, but failed in obtaining anything more than what had already been testified. He had endeavored to discharge his duty impartially, and was ready to postpone the inquiry if the jury thought it necessary.

Professor Charles Frederick Hautt, of Cornell University, sailed to-day on a scientific excursion to Brazil.

John Jeffry, aged seventeen years, has been missing since the day of the riot, and is supposed to have been killed.

LONDON, July 24.—In the House of Commons to-day General Dixon, member from Birmingham, wished to know if the reduction of the civil list was possible. Gladstone replied that he believed the question arose from a misapprehension of the character of the list which he said was a solemn compact made between sovereign and people at the beginning of each reign. Any economical advantage which resulted were to be credited to the crown and not the country. It would be well for Parliament to maintain this view of civil list, as it would contribute to encourage the Queen's servants to fulfill their duties.

The Prince of Wales goes Monday next to Dublin with Prince Arthur, the Duke of Cambridge, Princess Louise and the Marquis of Lorne. Brilliant fetes and balls, closing with a grand review, are projected during the stay of royal visitors in Ireland.

FIREMEN'S EXEMPTIONS.—It is reported that owing to the recent decision of the Supreme Court, that under the present Constitution of the State, firemen are not exempt from jury duty. Two fire companies in Macon are about to disband. We understand that a similar movement is being agitated in Savannah for the same reason.—Savannah News.

IS THE NEGRO POPULATION DYING OUT? The increase between 1850 and 1860 was 21.90 per cent.; between 1860 and 1870, 10.36 per cent., not quite half so great. At this rate the day is not distant when the race will die out. The deaths of the negroes in the cities are largely in excess of the whites, in proportion to the population of each.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—Some days ago a negro woman on the plantation of J. C Wimbush, in Africa District, in this county, was struck by lightning, and so badly injured that her life is almost despaired of. It is reported that she has been crazy ever since the occurrence.—Middle Georgian.

NEW WATERING PLACE.—Buford, on the Air-Line Railroad, is rapidly developing into a watering-place. A new hotel is being constructed.

EXTRA EDITION.—We print this afternoon a thousand extra copies of the Evening Edition of the ATLANTA CONSTITUTION to supply the demand for it.

WHO IS HE?—What divine is it that is studying Greek under a youthful Alumni of Franklin University? Is he still in the woods, or has he been found out?

SPRING CHICKENS.—Spring chickens seem to be abundant. One of our largest dealers yesterday found making an improved coop for his stock of chickens, well ventilated and secured.

LOST.—A bunch of keys, with four or five keys on it, including a post office key. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving it with the Local Editor of THE ATLANTA CONSTITUTION.

ACQUITTED.—In the case before Justice R. B. Johnson, in which Policeman Couch was charged with assault and battery, Justice Johnson acquitted Officer Couch of the charge.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.—We learn that it is contemplated to call a meeting of our citizens on next Saturday for the purpose of organizing a Chamber of Commerce. This is moving in the right direction.

A VALUABLE SPRING.—It is rumored that one of our wealthy citizens has agreed that if the Ice De Loon Spring, on the Air-Line Road, will prove what is claimed for it, that he will give one thousand dollars a drop for the water.

SPRINCE one of Atlanta's fairest ones has taken up a temporary residence at Decatur, it is said in the bosom of that town find it difficult to determine who to the belle. If they would ring them, they would soon find out without being told'd.

UNFOUNDED.—The report that those fine looking hounds of Lawson B. Langford's were lost during the hail storm of Sunday evening is unfounded. Like faithful guardians, they have never been outside of his store since he imported them. He has his cooking stoves and parlor mantles go fast.

HORSE HOUSES GONE UP.—Andrew Jackson, a colored man, had just put up a new house on the ridge in the rear of General Gartrell's. The wind on Sunday evening capsized it. One on Houston street, on a knoll, was blown over. In another part of the city a house was jarred around.

DANGEROUS PRACTICE.—A colored lad on Sunday indulged his propensity for discharging fire arms in the limits of the city, to the imminent peril of Mr. W. S. Turner. The ball came in close proximity to Mr. Turner's legs. The boy is now in the house, and will perhaps be engaged in the service of the city for a few days pecking rock.

THE STORM.—The storm on Sunday evening was the topic yesterday. Among the sufferers, we regret to learn that our friend Stokes—he of the jolly mood and happy temperament—was a heavy loser. In the city one gentleman is reported to have been blown down on his all fours and propelled by the wind past the storm for some distance.

EDUCATIONAL.—Twenty-two applicants for teacher's certificates were examined by the Hon. W. H. Strickland, County Commissioner of Dekalb county, last Friday at Decatur, before the Board of Education. MIDDLE MALADIES.—The hot solar rays that ripen the harvests generate many distressing diseases. If the liver be at all predisposed to irregularities, this is the season in which bilious attacks may be anticipated. A weak stomach, too, is weakest in the summer months, and the loss of vitality through the pores by excessive perspiration is so great, that a wholesome tonic, combining also the properties of a diffusive stimulant and gentle exhilarant, is in many cases necessary to health, and under no circumstances should it be dispensed with by the sickly and debilitated. Of all the preparations intended thus to refresh, sustain, and fortify the human frame, there is none that will compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. They have been weighed in the balance of experience and not found wanting; have been recommended from the first as a great medicinal specific, not as a beverage, and in spite of interested opposition from innumerable quarters, stand, after a twenty years' trial, at the head of all proprietary medicines intended for the prevention and cure of all ordinary complaints of the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and the nerves. In the unhealthy districts bordering the great rivers of the South and West, Hostetter's Bitters may be classed as the standard one for every species of intermittent or remittent fever. The people who inhabit those districts, place the most implicit confidence in the preparation—a confidence that is increased every year by the results of its operation.

As bitters, so called, of the most pernicious character, are springing up like fungi on every side, the public is hereby forewarned against the dram-shop frauds. Ask for Hostetter's Bitters, see that the label, etc., are correct, and remember that the genuine article is never sold in bulk, but in bottles only.

THE PEOPLE REJOICE.—For Prof. Isaacseen has discovered the great "Sure Pop" on Rats, Mice, Roaches, and Bugs. It is certain in its effects, it will do what no other rat poison will do, it is never failing, and the great beauty is the rats leave the premises to die. Prof. I., has certificates of the highest order, we have seen them and know them to be genuine. Try the "Sure Pop" and our word for it, you will not regret the investment of 25 cents.—Dutenport Democrat.

TARRANT'S SELTZER APERIENT.

A REBELLIOUS STOMACH.—The Stomach, like the body politic, resents ill-treatment by rebellion. And when it rebels, the liver, the bowels, the nerves, the circulation, the brain, revolt likewise, and the whole system is distressingly agitated. Pacify and regulate the deranged digestive organs first, and the disturbance in its dependencies will speedily cease. The tonic, alterative, corrective and purifying properties of

7-30 GOLD LOAN

OF THE

Northern Pacific Railroad.

RAPID PROGRESS OF THE WORK.

THE building of the Northern Pacific Railroad (begun July 2d, 1870) is now pushed forward with great energy from both extremities of the line. Several thousand men are employed in Minnesota and on the Pacific coast. Of the first 500 miles completed, 268 miles westward from Lake Superior traffic are running over 1,50 miles of finished road, and track laying progresses at the rate of 30 miles per week. Upon completion to the Pacific coast, the Northern Pacific Company now has $12 millions of completed road, and by September next this will be increased to 1,500 miles.

A Good Investment.—Messrs. Jay Cooke & Co. are now selling, and substantially recommend, as a profitable and perfectly safe investment, the First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 20 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest, (equal to more than 8 per cent. currency), are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS APPURTENANCES, and also by the Land is combined, as 2,000 Acres of Land to every mile of track or 300 Acres for each $1,000 Bond. They are exempt from United States taxes. Principal and interest are payable in Gold, at New York. Coupons, $37 50 on $1,000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

Lands for Bonds.—Now here Pacific 7.30's are at all times receivable at par, for CASH, ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's Lands, at their lowest cash price. This renders them practically INTEREST BEARING LAND WARRANTS.

Sinking Fund.—The proceeds of all sales of Lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Company is Fifty Million Acres. This immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cause the principal of the Company's bonded debt, which, like the interest, is gold secured, to be paid at maturity, thereby leaving the interest, accessible to the people, which is more PROFITABLE OR SAFE.

Exchanging U. S. Five-Twenties.—The success of the New Government 5 per cent. Loan will compel the early surrender of United States 6 per cents, thus making millions of Five-Twenty bonds exchange hands for Northern Pacific seven-Thirties, thus realizing a handsome profit, and greatly increasing their yearly income.

Other securities.—All marketable Stocks and Bonds will be purchased at their highest current price in exchange for Northern Pacific seven-Thirties at PAR—Interest on Money or Bonds received, and on Seven-Thirties sent in return, will be paid by the Financial Agents. "TO BE LET."

To be let at a very desirable date
A sunny little cottage in a fine, healthy state,
'Tis a bachelor's heart, and the "agent" is chance
Affection the rent, to be paid in advance.
The owner, as yet, has possessed it alone,
So the fix ures are not of much value, but soon
'Twill be furnished by Cupid himself, if a wife
Take a lease for the term of a natural life.

The tenant will have a few taxes to pay,
Love, honor, and heaviest item, "obey;"
As for good will, the owner's inclined
To keep that, if agreeable, settled in kind,
Provided true title by pro f can be shown,
To heart unincumbered and free as his own.
So ladies, dear ladies, pray do not forget,
There's an excellent bachelor's heart "to be let."

HOPE—TO-MORROW.

What faded leaves are strewn along
The pathway of yesterday;
The pretty flowers we prized the most,
Lie withered in the way.

We see our blighted hopes and weep;
Then haste our tears to stay,
But there are other blooming buds
Upon the bush to-day.

And hope, forgetful of the past,
Anticipates the flower
That bright will bloom upon the stem,
When falls to-morrow's shower.

City and Suburban.

LATE CAPT. E. P. BOWDRE.—Capt. E. P. Bowdre, son of E. P. Bowdre, of Macon, died at Griffin on Sunday, from an attack of cramp colic. He was connected with the Macon and Western Railroad, and an estimable gentleman. His remains were carried to Macon for interment.

SAD.—We learn this morning, with profound grief, of the death of that most estimable lady, Mrs. William A. Fuller, jr., after an illness of four months. She had been taken by her bereaved husband from place to place for her health; doctor after doctor had been called in, but her disease baffled the ability of all, and at 1:30 this morning her spirit took its flight. She follows close in the path of her two sweet little daughters, Leo Augusta and Evelina Marthenie, as well as the mother of her husband. Truly, Captain Fuller has abundant grievances.

DR. LEWIS J. DUPREE.—Dr. Lewis J. Dupree died early Sunday morning, from injuries received near Bear Creek, about midnight Saturday night. The up freight train discovered Mr. Dupree lying on the track one mile from Bear Creek, but not in time to save him. His spine was dislocated, his shoulder crushed, jawbone broken and all his teeth knocked out, one of his feet cut off, and his legs broken in several places. Dr. Dupree was a member of the firm of Dupree, Reeves & Co., of Griffin, and leaves a wife and two children.

RAIN, HAIL, AND WIND.—On Sunday evening, about six o'clock, Atlanta was visited by hail, rain, and wind. The wind blew with terrific violence, first shrouding the city in dust, and tearing off signs and window blinds, destroying awnings, unroofing and demolishing houses, and sweeping on in its furious career, a heavy fall of rain and hail, accompanied with thunder and lightning, added the awful character of the scene.

The large, new plank awning in front of Silvey & Dougherty's, on Decatur street, was lifted from its fastenings, and the greater portion carried across Peachtree street. Fragments were violently hurled across Decatur street to the Turf Exchange, opposite, crushing in the revolving light, and landing scantling inside the side entrance. Another piece struck the water guttering over the door next to the exchange, mashing it in and unjointing the sections. Another piece, still higher up, split the facing in a window and narrowly missing a large French glass pane. The street at this point was literally piled up with the debris. The police at once removed it so as to leave it in a passable condition.

The center column of the new passenger depot, on Loyd street, was moved from its position, the lower end being entirely off the granite base, and the zinc arch above was wrenched and cracked.

Considerable damage was inflicted on household furniture by the rain and hail beating in unraised windows.

The two-room house recently elevated from the ground, of Mr. Samuel Ogletree, on Washington street, was raised from the pillars, and totally wrecked. The roof is underneath, the walls and weatherboarding on top. Mr. Ogletree, his wife and a child eighteen months old, were in the house at the time. Mrs. Ogletree was cut in the back of the head and on the cheek bone, and one eye terribly lacerated with splinters. He is now senseless, and his recovery is considered doubtful. Mrs. Ogletree is very much bruised, and is in a precarious condition. The child was unhurt.

An unfinished dwelling house on Whitehall street, near Hood street, belonging to Mr. Parker, was leveled to the ground. A window sash was blown out, and striking a gentleman in the face, fractured his nose. A house on McDonough street, near the brickyard was also turned over, and a negro's shanty near the rolling mill unroofed.

The large sign of Phillips & Crew, on top of their store, was blown off and cannot be found.

A mocking bird was killed by the hail in the yard of Dr. Thurman. A drove of mules passed over F. M. Richardson's house during the hail, and he states that he saw them falling in every direction. His son picked up seven martins in the yard addled by the hail. Calves were knocked down by the hail, and cows appeared terror stricken.

In the neighborhood of Williams' mill corn, cotton and watermelons were riddled by the hail. The destruction of vegetation is said to be heavy in that locality. On Major West's place hail is said to have been shoe-mouth deep this morning. From Judge Brice's, one mile below Decatur, to Atlanta corn and cotton have suffered heavily from the hail.

The heaviest part of the storm seems to have been in the neighborhood of East Point. Mr. Connally, Rev. Mr. Johnson and others are heavy sufferers.

Hail is reported to have been six inches deep at East Point. Hiram Jones brought in this morning a sack full of hail, and states that that he could have gathered this morning a wagon full as easy.

In May, 1844, a hail storm passed over near where Colonel J. M. C. Reed now lives, stripping the trees of their leaves. But, taking the storm as a whole, experienced men pronounce it the severest since September, 1827.

READ! READ! READ!!! Health, beauty and happiness restored to modern womanhood, by using Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator or Woman's Best Friend.

For Sold by every Druggist in Charlotte, N. C., and by Druggists generally. ☞

We were kindly furnished the following extract from a letter to Dr. F. Scarr, Druggist, of this city:

STANLEY COUNTY, N. C.

Dr. F. Scarr—DEAR SIR: When in your town I asked you for something for my wife. You sold me a bottle of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, or Woman's Best Friend. Please put me up one dozen bottles of the same, as the one I got from you has got my wife finely well. You would not know her now; she has got stout and healthy and as red as a rose. As others are needing it please send me one dozen bottles.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 23, 1871.

Dr. J. H. Bradfield—DEAR SIR: We cheerfully bear testimony to the efficacy and popularity of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator. Among a number of cases it has benefitted in this community, we mention that of a married lady. She was a sufferer from womb disease; had excessive and disagreeable flow of whites; was weak and languid. She was induced to try the Regulator, and after taking the second bottle she is sound and well. Her health and elasticity of spirits have returned, and she has gained many pounds in weight; feels altogether like a new being. Yours very respectfully,

SUNDAY'S DISPATCHES.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The Solicitor of the Treasury, in a long opinion, holds that when parties act under a decision of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, they are not liable, should the Judiciary Department subsequently overrule the Commissioner's decision. This defeats the claim of the government for tax on bonds, coupon and dividends for five months between September 1, 1870, and January 31, 1871, when the officers of corporations, under the Commissioner's decision, failed to withhold the tax. The opinion holds that, in withdrawing the tax, the officers of corporations act as agents for the government, and are not equitably responsible for the legality of the Commissioner's opinions and instructions.

Private letters from Cuba via Jamaica, 5th instant, mentions several important engagements in which the Cubans were successful. One of them is said to have lasted five hours, and resulted in the capture of 600 Spanish prisoners. In another forty-five Spaniards were killed, and 150 prisoners taken. The Cubans control the department of Guantanamo.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Eighty-two thousand dollars has been subscribed for the erection of a new first-class German theatre, for which $200,000 is to be raised.

Immigrating to this port for the quarter ending, June 30th, amounted to 101,015, including 30,814 Germans and 26,149 Irish.

About $800 have been privately subscribed for the widow of Sergeant Wyatt, who was killed in the riot of the 12th, and the subscription continues brisk.

The memory of Benjamin Nathan who was murdered a year ago, was observed yesterday by the Synagogue of Mt. Sinai, of the Hospital of which he was President.

Two of the East River dry docks have sunk—it is supposed from holes made by evil disposed persons. The docks are being dised, but the company loses from $15,000 to $20,000.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Cotton was heavy and lower early in the week, but afterwards partially recovered the decline. Sales for the week, 78,500 bales, of which 65,500 are for future delivery, and 13,000 on spot and to arrive. Of the spot cotton, exporters took about 1,125 bales; spinners 4,100; and speculators 1,500. The hog products have been moderately active, but without any marked improvement in prices. Beef products have been quiet. Dairy products have declined. Tobacco has been active in Kentucky leaf, and prices advanced. Naval stores advanced in spirits but quiet in other articles. Petroleum has been unsettled, but closed firmer. Hops—here has been a large movement for export at full prices. Wool and metals have been firm on a fair business. In other domestic products, changes have not been important. The general trade of the city has not developed any new features during the week, and fullness prevails in all departments. Dry goods have been dull even in domestic cotton fabrics, and prices are generally firm. In the carpet trade, orders for goods for the fall trade are still being placed with the manufacturers at their value when delivered. The advance of about five cents per yard, made early in the present month, is well sustained. The boot and shoe trade continues dull, and the only relief to the market this week was the appearance of a few Southern buyers. Spring and summer goods are offered at a slight concession to close out stock, but fall and winter goods are held firmly. In the hard ware trade, some of the large firms are preparing for the fall trade, but business generally is very dull.

LATER.—The cotton movement shows a large falling off in receipts, and a considerable increase in exports. Receipts from all ports for the week 10,061 against 15,386 last week and 18,468 the previous week and 18,197 three weeks since. Total receipts since September 1,956,798 against 2,843,084 the corresponding period of last year; showing an increase of 1,113,714 bales in favor of the present season. Exports from all ports for the week 19,271 bales against 12,712 bales for the same week last year. Total exports for the expired portion of the cotton year, 309,547 bales, against 2,159,899 for the same time last year. Stock at all ports 156,319 bales against 126,184 the same time last year. Stock at interior towns, 16,216 bales against 26,326 last year. Stock in Liverpool 660,000 bales against 607,000 last year. American cotton afloat for Great Britain 80,000 bales against 52,000 last year. India cotton afloat for Europe 575,585 bales 414,000 last year.

At the South during the week more rain has fallen, but it was needed in many sections.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—An immense democratic mass meeting was held here last night.

UTAH.

SALT LAKE CITY, July 23.—The City Council has appointed a committee of prominent Mormons to make grand preparations to receive President Grant in August.

The Corrinne Journal will be removed to this city, thus making two Gentile papers for the Mormons to contend with.

MONDAY'S NOON DISPATCHES

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, July 24.—Rev. Dr. Jacobs, for forty years a Professor in a Pennsylvania College, is dead.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 24.—A messenger of a National Bank was knocked down at the corner of Broadway and Warren streets, and robbed of $30,000.

The following is a copy of the letter which was brought to Admiral Rodgers, by a party of Coreans shortly after the arrival of the expedition in their waters, and before the first conflict occurred: In the year 1869, a man of your nation, whose name was Sebiger, came here and communicated and then went away; why cannot you do the same? In 1865, a person named French came here; we refer you to them as to what happened. This people has lived for 4,000 years in the enjoyment of its own civilization, and we want no other. We trouble no other nation why do you trouble us? Our country is in the extreme east and yours is in the extreme west, for what purpose do you come so many thousand miles across the sea? Is it to inquire about the destroyed ship, Gen. Sherman? Her men committed piracy and murder and were punished with death. Do you want our land? That cannot be. Do you want intercourse with us. That cannot be either." As your party had no credentials or authority to treat, neither Minister Low nor Admiral Rogers paid any attention to the communication.

CUBA.

HAVANA, July 24.—Rafael Quesada, with two hundred men, landed near Gustansmo with eighteen mules and some rifles. The mules were eaten and the rifles distributed among the insurgents. A fight with the party resulted in a Spanish victory. Loss of the Spaniards ten killed and twelve wounded; insurgent loss twenty-three killed.

Advices from insurgent sources claim a Cuban success—forty-five Spaniards killed and one hundred and fifty captured, and the patriots control the department of Guatanamo.

It is apprehended that the sailing of Quesada's expedition will create a complication between Spain and Venezuela.

FRANCE.

PARIS, July 24.—The courts martial for the trial of the Communists at Versailles has been adjourned.

Bouvalet if among the successful candidates in the election on Sunday.

Heavy payments toward the second half milliard of indemnity, have been effected.

It is reported that Favre persists in his resignation because the petition of the Bishops urging the Government to support the temporal power of the Pope has been referred to the Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The municipal elections resulted in six Conservatives and forty-nine moderate Republicans.

Prince Napoleon, who was at Havre, has been ordered to leave France.

The Bonapartist Journal, Avenir Liberal, has been seized.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, June 24.—The Aucland, hence for Sydney, has been wrecked. The crew and passengers were saved.

The meeting at Hyde Park yesterday was a failure. A heavy rain prevailed during the day, and prevented any considerable crowd from assembling.

Prince Frederick William, of Prussia, has arrived at Osborne. The Emperor and Empress of Brazil have gone to Birmingham.

SPAIN.

MADRID, July 24.—The new ministerial combination under Marshal Serrano has failed.

It is said that Serrano refuses to undertake the formation of another Cabinet.

BRANCH & QUIN'S LINIMENT, besides being the best and perhaps the only, remedy for that excruciating disease, the Rheumatism, has been proved capable of curing neuralgia, pneumonia, diphtheria, sore throat, toothache, earache, headache.

Though only known to the public for about the space of twelve months, this carivaled medicine has nevertheless already attained a wide notoriety—hundreds restored to health by its wonderful power, now testify to its many virtues, and the proprietors are constantly receiving applications for it from almost every quarter.

Branch & Quin's Liniment is no Yankee swindle. Its proprietors are Southern men. All they ask is a trial in order to convince any one, even the most obstinate and prejudiced of its merit, and they are prepared to guarantee it to be as represented.

READ!

THE only Remedy in Existence that will cure all diseases originating from Impurities of the Blood, Irregular Menstruation, Obstructions or Suppression of the Menses, Whites, Prolapsus Uteri or Falling of the Womb.

These diseases have seldom been treated successfully. The profession has sought diligently for some remedy that would enable them to treat these diseases with success.

At last that remedy has been discovered by one of the most skilful physicians in the State of Georgia. That remedy is

BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR.

It is purely vegetable, and is put up in Atlanta, Ga., by Bradfield & Co.

It will purify the blood and strengthen the system, relieve irritation of the kidneys, and is a perfect specific for all the above diseases, as a certain cure as quinine is to Chills and Fevers.

For a history of diseases and certificates of its wonderful cures, the reader is referred to the wrapper around each bottle.

Every bottle warranted to give satisfaction or money refunded.

LAGRANGE, Ga., March 22, 1870.

BRADFIELD & Co., Atlanta, Georgia:

DEAR SIRS: I take pleasure in stating that I have used, for the last twenty years, the medicine you are putting up, known as Dr. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR, and consider it the best combination ever gotten together for the diseases for which it is recommended. I have been familiar with the prescription, both as practioner of medicine and in domestic practice and can honestly say that I consider it a boon to suffering females, and can but hope every lady in the land, who may be suffering in any way peculiar to their sex, may be able to procure a bottle, that their sufferings may not only be relieved, but that they may be restored to health and strength.

With my kindest regards, I am, respectfully,
W. R. FERRELL, M. D.

We, the undersigned, Druggists, take pleasure in commending to the trade Dr. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR—believing it to be a good and reliable remedy for the diseases for which he recommends it.

Dr. Prophitt's
Celebrated Liver Medicine.

It is purely vegetable, and will act upon the Liver and Kidneys as promptly as Calomel and Bacha, without any of the injurious effects of the latter upon the bones.

Parties taking this medicine need not fear getting wet, or any other reasonable exposure.

Symptoms of Liver Disease:

Headache, Dull Feeling or the Blues, Sour Stomach, Sick or Nervous Headache, Heartburn, Indigestion or Dyspepsia, Bad or Bitter Taste in the Mouth, the skin has a thick, rough feeling, and is darker than usual, Coated Tongue, Unhealthy Feelings, Cramps, Cold Feet, Colic, Dysentery or Diarrhœa, Chills and Fever, and Piles. In fact, where the Liver is out of order, you are liable to every disease that is not contagious.

Prophitt's Liver Medicine, if taken properly, will prevent and cure any disease resulting from a deranged Liver.

It will regulate its functions and thus cure all diseases caused by the failure of its healthy action.

It has been used for a great number of years, and has given universal satisfaction.

There is no brother or son claiming to have the orginal receipt. It is put up in both Powder and Fluid form.

FAIRBURN, GA., September 4, 1869.

DR. O. S. PROPHITT:

SIR: My wife has been an invalid for fifteen years. Doctors all agree she had "Liver Disease." In connection with their practice she used various noted remedies, none of which seemed to do any good. Sometime ago I procured a bottle of "Liver Medicine," of your agent here, C. A. Harvey, which being given according to directions, has effected a complete cure. GEO. L. THOMPSON.

ATLANTA, GA., July 12, 1870.

MESSRS. BRADFIELD & CO.:

GENTLEMEN—Last year, during my travels in Alabama and Southwest Georgia, I contracted chills and fever, and my general health became very bad. I tried various remedies, and among others Shallenberger's Pills—all to no purpose. I was troubled with intense pain in the small of my back, and for months I did not have a moment's rest. I had well nigh despaired of recovering, when a friend recommended me to take Dr. Prophitt's Liver Medicine. I did so, and one bottle has cured me; and to-day I feel like another man. I consider it one of the best medicines for general use now put up, and, without any reservation, recommend it to the afflicted.

I am, gentlemen, very respectfully yours, etc.
O. M. HARRALSON.

DR. PROPHITT'S

COVINGTON, GA., November 9, 1867.

DR. PROPHITT:

Having a severe attack of Dysentery during the past summer, I was induced to use your Dysentery Cordial, and derived therefrom immediate and permanent relief. It gives me pleasure to recommend this remedy to all who may be so attacked, believing that, should the directions be followed, relief would surely be obtained. Yours, etc.,
O. S. PORTER.

Cheapest, Best, and Most Beautiful School-Books?

Now published. The "University Series" embraces

MAURY'S GEOGRAPHICAL SERIES,

By Commodore M. F. MAURY, of the Virginia Military Institute. A series of books which mark an era in the study of this science, and which, in the words of a well known and accomplished Southern teacher, "are characterized by a felicity of arrangement and simple freshness of style which must ever render them attractive to the young, and which will be used by all who wish to teach Geography as a science, as something to make pupils think, and not merely as an enumeration of dry facts."

Holmes' Readers and Spellers,

By GEORGE F. HOLMES, LL.D., Professor of History and General Literature in the University of Virginia. A series of Readers unequalled in cheapness, excellence, and typographical beauty. They are steadily progressive in character, bright and fresh in their selections of prose and verse, and illustrative of Southern scenes, incidents, and history.

Venable's Arithmetical Series,

By CHARLES S. VENABLE, LL.D., Professor of Mathematics in the University of Virginia. These books are received everywhere by intelligent teachers with the highest satisfaction, as being most admirably adapted for mental drill, as well as for business education. Their methods, rules, and reasonings are clear, distinct, logical, and comprehensive, and the series is carefully graded throughout.

Holmes' History of the United States,

By GEORGE F. HOLMES, LL.D., of the University of Virginia. It is enough to say of this admirable work, interesting, impartial, and truthful, as well as pure and graceful in style, that it is the only History of the United States which is strictly unpartisan. It comes down to the present date. Also,

De Vere's French Crammar, Readers, etc.,

"MILBURN WAGON COMPANY,"
a car load of Wagons, one and two-horse wagons. Among the lot I have to exhibit an axle, the
HOLLOW IRON AXLE WAGONS,
(Lewis Patent, 1870.) All of said Wagons will be warranted, and for durability, work, strength, style and prices exceedingly low, they defy competition, existing in any market.

Farmers and citizens generally, in the surrounding country, will do well to call and examine before making their purchases. june6—d1m4w6
